

Why the USA is F@*cked:

I don't ever post, but as a Canadian, university educated professional watching the high speed unfathomable collapse of the "American Experiment", these are my observations:

- 1.) Systemic racism
- 2.) Destruction of education, science, research
- 3.) Unfettered christofascism
- 4.) Worship of violence, aggression
- 5.) Worship of money
- 6.) Entrenched hatred of "others"
- 7.) Moral failure by institutions, political, religious
- 8.) Isolationism
- 9.) Adherence to false "exceptionalism"
- 10.) Militarization of cities

This has not been overnight – Trump and Project 2025 are the culmination of decades or erosion of "America".

Trump is the penultimate shining beacon of everything wrong, immoral and unjust in American "culture". He is the embodiment of the uneducated, boorish, greedy, exploitative bully. The "me first" mentality that says to cheat, steal, lie, threaten, as long as it gets you ahead.

Someone said – "Everything is a conspiracy when you don't understand how anything works". When an elected official says you can turn into an alien creature if you eat radioactive shrimp, or climate change isn't real because God controls the sun – where can you begin? Basic scientific or general understanding is so abysmal there is no foundation to base discourse.

MAGA is the offspring of this culture; they find their joy in hating, taking from, hurting others, behind this massive falsehood of "the land of opportunity".

The only "opportunity" left for the US is the opportunity to descend into civil war, and self destruction. I'd like to conclude with something positive, but right now I don't see one. The USA looks irreparably F@*cked to so many around the world. USA has a monumental task, good luck, you need it. Don't bother with praying, even if there is a God, I'd bet she's had enough of this shit too.
